6811. Tablets, or extracts therefrom, translated into english for use or publication by the bahá'í world center will continue to be reviewed by an ad hoc translation and review committee at the world center and designated as authorized translations.

2 individual believers are free to translate into english any of the holy writings for their own use. Such translations may also be issued electronically, and may be published in circulars or journals without review by anyone other than the editors of the publications, but they must, in all cases, be clearly labeled as “provisional translations.”

3 if such translations are to be included in books or pamphlets intended for publication by a bahá'í publisher, the Trust or private publisher involved should forward the manuscript to the bahá'í world center for clearance, together with copies of the Arabic or persian texts used in the translation. if the publisher is not a bahá'í agency, the authors or translators themselves should forward the manuscript and the Arabic or persian texts to the bahá'í world center for consideration prior to the involvement of any non-bahá'í publisher. if the translations are found to be of a quality adequate for publication, the manuscript will be returned to the sender with a note to this effect. Such translations should be identified as “provisional translations.” if the translations are found not to be of acceptable quality, they will be returned to the translator for reworking. This procedure does not replace the normal review process for the book as a whole, which remains the responsibility of the National Spiritual Assembly within whose area of jurisdiction the book or pamphlet is to be published.
